Multi-sports turf to be built at Kumaraswamy Lake bund in Coimbatore

The lake is one of the nine waterbodies taken up for rejuvenation under the Smart Cities Mission; 'project is estimated to cost ₹60 lakh, and work expected to commence within two months'

The Hindu Bureau
COIMBATORE

The Coimbatore Corporation has drawn up plans to develop a multi-sports turf on the bund of Kumaraswamy Lake, locally known as Muthannankulam, near R.S. Puram. The lake is one of nine waterbodies taken up for rejuvenation by the civic body under the Smart Cities Mission.

During the rejuvenation project, the Corporation cleared encroachments that had been identified along the eastern and northern bunds and in portions of the water spread.

The clearance was carried out in a phased manner. Following this, the storage capacity of the tank improved and the water spread area increased to 20,870 sq. m. Alongside these works, a walking track, children's play area, and other public amenities were created along the bund of the lake for use by the local community.

According to the Corporation, the proposed turf is meant to provide a prepared surface for sporting activities. At present, the open space near the lake has only an earthen surface, which becomes difficult to use during rain or when uneven.

The facility will be laid with artificial grass and fitted with lighting, fencing, and green shade nets, making it suitable for games such as cricket and football, including during evening hours.

A senior Corporation official said the project is estimated to cost ₹60 lakh, and work is expected to commence within two months after the tender process.

The turf will come up on the bund along Pusaripalayam Road, where basketball and volleyball courts are already located.

Over 9.29 lakh cubic metres of legacy waste accumulated at Vellalore dumpyard: CPCB

The Hindu Bureau
COIMBATORE

The Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) has reported that 9,29,109 cubic metres of legacy waste remain piled up in three different areas within the Vellalore dumpyard in Coimbatore.

It has directed the Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board (TNPCB) to ensure that the Coimbatore Corporation complies with the Solid Waste Management (SWM) Rules, 2016.

The directive followed joint inspections by the CPCB and TNPCB in July this year.

The inspections highlighted continued non-compliance at the site, where municipal solid waste has been dumped.

In its directive, the CPCB said that of the 1,100 tonnes of waste handled daily at Vellalore, only about 990 tonnes were processed and that the waste reaching the processing facility was found to be mixed waste. It added that the chicken and meat waste processing facility at the site was closed in February this year, after which the Corporation began sending around 15 tonnes a day to private facilities in Madurai, Kerala, and Karnataka, but no records of this disposal were maintained.

The CPCB further observed that due to inadequate treatment capacity, nearly 110 tonnes of mixed waste were being dumped in the open near the windrow composting facility every day.

It stated that windrow composting was not being carried out as per Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs guidelines, with each windrow resembling a heap of waste rather than a layered composting arrangement.

The directive also pointed out that the sanitary landfill at the site was not equipped with garland drains to collect leachate during the monsoon.

It further noted that the leachate treatment plant, though available, did not appear to be operated regularly.

The CPCB has tasked both the TNPCB and the Regional Director of CPCB, Chennai, with ensuring compliance.

TNSTC urged to ply additional night services between Mettupalayam and Coimbatore

Coimbatore.

In a petition submitted to the TNSTC authorities, S. Pasha, general secretary, CITU Mettupalayam Taluk

General Workers' Union, said the travellers were inconvenienced by shortage in bus services.

The buses were overcrowded in the morning and evening hours, and the passengers, in particular, the elderly people, women and children, were facing difficulty in boarding the buses.

They were also unable to reach their destinations in time.

The limited bus services after 8 p.m. mostly affected the women going for shift jobs the most at workplaces in and around Kavundampalayam, Thudiyalur, Narasimhanayakkanpalayam, Periyanyakkanpalayam, and Karamadai, the

Training programme for newly-recruited work inspectors begins

The Hindu Bureau

Training for 366 newly-recruited work inspectors in Coimbatore district began on Saturday.

The recruits, appointed through direct recruitment by the Municipal Administration and Water Supply Department to monitor and oversee civic works in corporations, municipalities, and town panchayats, will undergo sessions until September 20 at the District Government Model School in R.S. Puram. The programme is being conducted by Anna University faculty along with department officials.

Minister for Municipal Administration K.N. Nehru inaugurated the induction training through video conference from Chennai. Appointment orders had recently been issued to 2,538 people selected for various posts – including assistant engineer, assistant engineer (planning), junior engineer (planning), technical assistant, designer, work supervisor, work inspector, and sanitary inspector – in corporations and municipalities. Of these, 1,634 have since joined duty. As part of their induction, training sessions for different posts are being conducted at centres in Chennai, Salem, Coimbatore, Tiruchi, and Madurai.

A video screening of the inauguration was organised at the Corporation Kalaiarangam where District Collector Pavankumar G. Giriappanavar, Coimbatore MP Ganapathi P. Rajkumar, and Corporation Commissioner M. Sivaguru Prabakaran participated.

Residents seek protection from wild elephant

The Hindu Bureau
COIMBATORE

Residents of Vellimalaipattinam staged a road-blockade protest at Narasipuram on the city outskirts demanding protection from a wild elephant that had entered into their locality and caused havoc.

The elephant had knocked down an aged resident Badragiri, causing fracture on both legs, and pushed down two-wheelers on the roadsides, before ransacking an agricultural field.

Following the protest, Forest Department chased
